

Why Your Firm Needs to Belong to ACEC and the Land Development Coalition

ACEC's Land Development Coalition (LDC) addresses the unique business needs of land development firms, helping firms succeed, today and into the future.

LDC Goals

- ⇒ Provide business practice programs and information for land development firms;
- ⇒ Develop liaison relationships with client industry associations;
- ⇒ Monitor and communicate with federal and regulatory agencies;
- ⇒ Monitor trends and changes in the industry to help firms maintain and enhance profitability;
- ⇒ Provide a forum for firms to express their own business concerns;
- ⇒ Promote ACEC and member organizations' commitment to the coalition.

The LDC strengthens the business environment and image of member firms, focusing on quality professional land use services in a competitive global marketplace, providing an outlet for the special needs of your firm, and for confronting issues that impact land development firms.

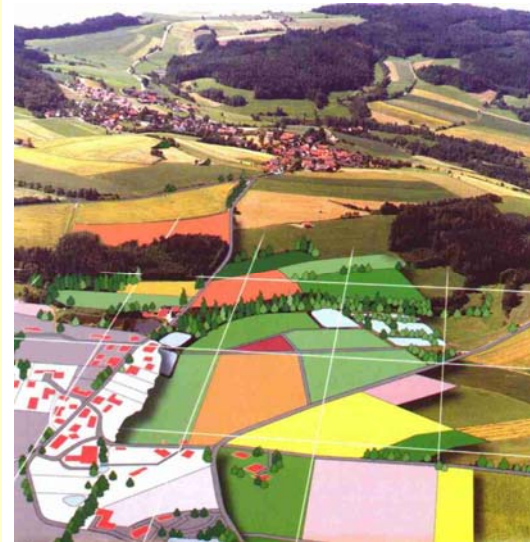

LDC sponsors seminars at the ACEC Annual Convention and Fall Conference that meet the needs of the land development profession and focus on improving firms' bottom lines. Every LDC sponsored event presents an opportunity to hear and learn from experts in the field who make profitability a high priority.

Mission of the Land Development Coalition

To strengthen the business environment for member firms, focusing on quality professional land development services in a competitive global marketplace.

Purpose of the Land Development Coalition

To provide business practice information to firms engaging in land development practices and be an advocate within ACEC for the interests of firms specializing in land development issues. To enhance management expertise and increase business efficiency and profitability of the coalition membership. To provide a unified voice on legislative and regulatory items affecting member firms.

The Land Development Coalition is ACEC's newest coalition, established in 2009. We are looking for members who want to improve our industry and trailblaze our role within ACEC.

As land use issues come under increased scrutiny, we want our industry to be prepared to operate profitably within new regulations.

The American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC) is the voice of America's engineering industry. Council members, numbering more than 5,000 firms throughout the country, are engaged in a wide range of engineering works that propel the nation's economy, and enhance and safeguard America's quality of life. These works allow Americans to drink clean water, enjoy a healthy life, take advantage of new technologies, and travel safely and efficiently. The Council's mission is to contribute to America's prosperity and welfare by advancing the business interests of member firms.
